ABOUT TOWN.

FOR SALE: City script. Apply at this office.

FOR SALE:—A Hartford wheel perfectly new. Apply at this office.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Egan of Point Isabel are visiting friends in the city.

Fresh lemons and fine cigars have been received at the International saloon.

The International saloon has received a large consignment of California claret, whiskey and all kinds of liquors.

Abe Weil, representing a New Orleans shoe house, arrived by the Alice stage last night.

Judge Welch and District Attorney Kleiber will reach here Saturday evening, coming via the M. & M.

The International Saloon will receive a fresh supply of all goods in its line next week. Watch for the announcement.

Col. R. B. Renfro returned last evening from Corpus Christi and San Antonio, where he has been the past three weeks on legal business.

The state superintendent of education of the state of Tamaulipas arrived in Matamoros last evening to inspect the public schools of that city.

THE HERALD bill collector will call on all the delinquents tomorrow morning and we trust all such will be prepared to meet their obligation when he calls. Don't get mad with the poor collector and tell him you are tired of having bills presented, as it is not his fault, he is only carrying out the instructions of the proprietor. If you have any kicks coming register them at the office.

Notice to Parents.

Parties desiring to enter their children in the public school for the current session must do so within this week and the next. No pupils will be received afterward without examination or ability to enter regular classes.

THOS. P. BARBOUR, Principal.

SAN ANTONIO INTERNATIONAL FAIR

OPENS OCTOBER 20,
November 2, 1900.

READY TO BEGIN.

Ethel—Mamma, don't you think women should know how to cook, so that they may be able to look after their husband's digestion when they marry?

Mamma—Certainly, dear.

Ethel—Mayn't I go to the kitchen, then, and practicing making the butter scotch?—Brooklyn Life.

A NEW STRAMER LINE.

To Run Between Point Isabel and Rockport for San Antonio Freight.

San Antonio Express.

It is very probable that a water line will be established between Rockport and Brownsville. There has always been a drawback in the effort to supply Brownsville via Galveston. The recent disaster in latter city has caused much distress at Brownsville for want of supplies. Jose Celaya, general manager of the Rio Grande Railroad Company, has taken the matter up with Brock Bros., of Rockport. Mr. Celaya proposes to operate his steam lighter Lazon, a 200 ton vessel. The operation of this line would give San Antonio merchants a splendid opportunity of controlling the Brownsville trade. Secretary Kight, of the Business Men's Club, is in receipt of a communication from Chas. W. Lunsford, editor of the Rockport New Era, in reference to the matter. Mr. Lunsford enclosed a clipping from the Galveston News, stating that the people of New Orleans would establish a line between that city and Brownsville.

Mr. Lunsford's letter follows: "Mr. Chas. N. Kight, Secretary of Business Men's Club, San Antonio:

"Dear Sir: In reference to conversation held with you last Saturday relative to matter here set forth, will say that the enclosed clipping from Galveston News and letter from Rio Grande Railroad Company, speak for themselves. The question is; What has San Antonio done towards securing this trade? The letter has been answered and all necessary arrangements made, the route for transferring handling and wharfage also included, will be $1.00 per ton, which, as you can see, is as cheap as other ports and a fraction cheaper than anything else in the State.

"If the people of New Orleans can reach out as far as Brownsville, why not San Antonio men, too?

"Would appreciate you showing the matter to Mr. Ben. M. Hammond.

It is the consensus of opinion here that the time is at hand when San Antonio should accept the overtures thus made by the people of Brownsville. This being no time for newspaper notoriety, but plain every day business.

"There have been several letters from Brownsville merchants received here, and all to the effect that they are in need of the staples, such as flour, potatoes, lard, bacon, etc.

"The manufacturing interests alone in San Antonio should reach for this trade now, before it is too late. After you have finished with the letter please mail it to Brock Bros., or return it to me.

"Hoping you will clearly understand my position in the matter, as it is one from the vantage grounds of absolute independence, but wishing to do the greatest good for the greatest number is why I write. Yours truly,

"CHAS. W. LUNSFORD."

A Brave Young Seaman.

A special to the Galveston News from Washington containing extracts from the report of the board of investigation concerning the work of the crew revenue cutter Galveston in the late storm, which contains high praise for a young seaman named James Bierman who is a grandson of Mrs. James Baker of Point Isabel. Young Bierman's efforts were mainly instrumental in saving twenty-one persons, chiefly women and children, from destruction in the storm. These persons were rescued from floating debris and damaged houses by the ship's cutter, which during the height of the storm, and conveyed to a place of safety, through the streets of the city which were five to eight feet deep with water and a perfect madstrom of wreckage, while the air was thick with flying slates and timbers. The heroic part played by Mr. Bierman is described as follows:

"When it became impossible to get the boat any further or to secure her safety then Ordinary Seaman Bierman was sent out ahead with a rope, and by swimming and beating his way to windward against the current he succeeded in reaching a telegraph pole and floating them from pole to pole for the distance of a block, and by this means the boat was hauled ahead with its freight of rescued persons, twenty-one in all besides the crew, to a place of safety, where the people were landed and the boat secured until the current and gale abated sufficiently to permit her to return to the ship. Most of this work was done in total darkness."

EASE AND DISEASE

A Short Lesson on the Meaning of a Familiar Word.

Disease is the opposite of ease. Webster defines disease as "lack of ease, uneasiness, trouble, vexation, disquiet." It is a condition due to some derangement of the physical organism. A vast majority of the "dis-ease" from which people suffer is due to impure blood. Disease of this kind is cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla which purifies, enriches and cleanses the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures scrofula, salt rheum, pimples and all eruptions. It tones the stomach and creates a good appetite, and it gives vigor and vitality to the whole body. It reverses the condition of things, giving health, comfort and "ease" in place of "disease."
